

June 5, 2014

LATEST BEST OF NY

NYC's 5 Best Out Of The Ordinary French Fries

Crispy, savory and salty – who doesn't love a plate of French fries? Last year we shared our favorite out of the ordinary fries, but this list is even more outrageous. Sure, we love the good ole' potato, but why settle with common fries when you can deep fry avocados, carrots and polenta? Stop by these New York City restaurants for deliciously inventive plates of fries. By Sarah M. Shaker.

Avocado Fries, Tender

130 W. 47th St.
The Sanctuary Hotel
New York , NY
212-514-6000
www.tendernyc.com

The Sanctuary Hotel's newest restaurant and lounge, Tender, is serving up Avacado Fries with diced apple, basil essence and ranch dip for an appetizer with the right amount of crunch coupled with a creamy, indulgent center. The menu features Modern American cuisine and sushi created by Executive Chef Dale Schnell whose experience includes KTCHN at THE OUT NYC and the world's only 7-star hotel The Burj al Arab in Dubai. For those who crave Japanese fare, Tender features a 10-piece Omakase and six non-traditional sushi rolls, like the Pink Panther with King Crab, cucumber, soy paper, crunch, wasabi aioli and yuzu roe from Sushi Chef Edwin Purnomo who previously worked at Sushi of Gari.

(credit: Tender)